

Dear continuing education students of the Academy!

The new academic year has started. We want it to be productive, fruitful and eventful, and – what is especially important now – to keep everyone healthy and to make sure that the spread of the corona virus would interfere with our work and learning activities as little as possible.

The work organization measures at our Academy can be found here EAMT work organization in the autumn semester of the academic year 2021/2022 - Eesti Muusika- ja Teatriakadeemia

- The staff and students, including continuing education students of the Academy must be prepared to either submit a formal COVID vaccination certificate, proof of having previously been infected with the COVID-19 disease or a negative test result. Therefore all students, including continuing education students and faculty members must have a valid COVID certificate. Obtaining this certificate is the personal responsibility of an employee or student and the possible costs involved will not be compensated by the Academy. More information about the COVID certificate can be found HERE.
- It is recommended to wear a mask at the academy. Non-vaccinated employees, students including continuing education students are required to wear a mask.
- It is strictly prohibited to come to the academy in the event of even the slightest suspicion of being infected with the virus. This requirement applies to both vaccinated and non-vaccinated employees and students. In case of an infection, continuing education students must notify the head of the continuing education centre ene.kangron@eamt.ee, tel. 6675 761.
- Unvaccinated people must remain in self-isolation for 10 days and are not allowed to enter the study building at that time. Vaccinated people or those who have recovered from the corona virus within the last 6 months do not have to self-isolate.
- The cafeteria is open to the faculty, staff and students of the Academy, as well as all continuing education students who are allowed to enter the study building.
- The library provides its services to the members of the academy as usual.
